DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Viazanko et al (6688503).

Viazanko teaches an adjustable hanger (Figure 2) comprising a hook member (24), a pair of arm members (14) attached thereto and comprising an upper portion and a lower portion inhibiting inadvertent disengaging, and each of a pair of extension assemblies (16) engaging one of the arms, each extension assembly comprising a base member and an extension member comprising a support portion and a guide portion, wherein the base member comprises a stanchion receiver assembly. The assembly as taught allows for sliding of the extension members along the arm members, while ensuring engagement and a smooth slide independent of one another.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Viazanko in view of Stokes (2005/0092787).

Viazanko essentially teaches the invention as discussed above, but fails to specifically teach an arm member having an outboard end which does not extend past the outboard end of the arm member, which Stokes teaches (Figures). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to utilize the structure as taught by Stokes in the hanger of Viazanko, so as to ensure the most compact hanger structure possible. The ordinarily skilled artisan would appreciate these benefits, and understand that a smaller hanger would allow for my diverse usage.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 6 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
